

I ~~was~~ wake up with an idea or a question that has arisen overnight. Sometimes I wonder if something exists and sometimes I see detailed moving images. I go to my laptop and I ~~start~~ begin "sketching" in processing or some other tool. I am fluent enough in the language to ~~smoothly~~ create output in a matter of hours. I generate a pattern. It's in vectors, so I can blow it up REALLY big or my screen and see tiny connections. Or I can make it REALLY small and it looks abstract and interesting. I take the image
